DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to the amendment filed on March 23, 2006.

Election/Restrictions

2. Applicant's election without traverse of Species II in the reply filed on March 23, 2006 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over LaBounty (5,142,779).

LaBounty discloses a cutting blade (116) substantially as claimed, including: a plurality of mounting holes (118); four shear edges (122, 124, and two edges on opposite side); and mounting rods (bolts 120). LaBounty fails to disclose at least six mounting holes. However, it is well known in the art to provide additional holes and fasteners on a device in order to more firmly secure the device to a main body. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide an additional mounting hole on the LaBounty blade in order to more firmly secure the blade to the shearing device.

Regarding claim 2, the hole sets can be considered transversely spaced, as the transverse direction has not been positively defined in the claim. To the extent it can be argued the holes are not transversely spaced, varying the position of the holes along the blade would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made in order to firmly secure the blade and prevent vibrations.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

It should be noted that Applicant has not made the record clear regarding the criticality of the mounting holes. Specifically, it is not clear from the disclosure why two sets of three holes are needed when only two holes are ever used at one time for mounting purposes. Further explanation is required for understanding.

While differences may exist between Applicant's invention and the prior art of record, these differences have not been positively claimed.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
